

Parking Around Highgate Synagogue

Planning permission means we have very limited parking on site. Parking in North Road itself (where the Synagogue is located) is strictly only for residents however parking bays are available in the streets around Highgate (there is residents' only restriction Monday to Friday 10.00am – 12.00pm).

The purple lines in the image below show where parking is available, mostly along North Hill (the main road through this part of Highgate) or in Broadlands Road (although this is perhaps a 5-7 minute walk away from the Synagogue).

A good tip if there are no spaces available in North Hill is to park in 'The Park'. This street ends in a wide pedestrian-only alley into North Hill and thus as people see it on the map as not connecting with North Hill it discourages parking so spaces should always be available there. It is then about a four-minute walk to the Synagogue. (The interconnecting alley is shown in yellow in the map below).

If you do however require special assistance with regards to an on-site parking space please contact the Synagogue Office in advance.
